Thanks for offering to resample!

Since your water system is sampling next week for us, I was thinking of renumbering next week's event to be HT-09 (first event for the month).

When would you want/be able to resample? The following week of Mar 4& 6 or otherwise in March (using Tues/Thurs schedule)?

If you would like to use your shipping label on those coolers feel free, although we have determined that it is not necessary.

Thanks again!

I am sending this email (and left a voice message on your cell as well), that unfortunately the cooler containing all TTHM samples (Fort Meade lab) was not logged in on Friday due to inclement weather.

Two questions:

1. Would be able to resample the event for us? (We are simultaneously looking into the potential cost impact for resampling.)We can resample, we can pay the shipping from here if you need.
2. When are you performing Stage 2 compliance samples for February 2014? (Would you be able to share Stage 2 results for Location 4 if partial analysis of last week's samples are performed)We did our Stage 2 with last weeks samples, so we could share. No problem

Thanks for letting us know ASAP, as we need to let the lab know whether to proceed with partial analysis.
